ACTIVITY - 17

The 8th week is dedicated to reviewing any topic the children had difficulty with. It can also be used to expand upon any of the lessons the teacher feels is necessary. The teacher's creativity can come into play at this point and other lessons can be created which should incorporate what has already been taught. These additional lessons should be developed before the 8th week begins. In this way the lesson(s) will be ready and all the necessary materials would be in place.
